Windward Community College – Career & Community Education
For our Future Leaders: Jim Bagnola on “Becoming A Professional Human Being” Seminar

KANE’OHE, HI – Back by popular demand, executive coach and International speaker Jim Bagnola, PhD, CSP, will return to Hawai’i for a special one-time leadership seminar at Windward Community College on Monday, November 7, 2016, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The seminar will take place at Palikū Theatre.

Becoming a “Professional Human Being” requires personal accountability and effective personal leadership. Our health, success and our capacity to lead require self-responsibility and a harmonious mind-body relationship. Learn to use the Mind-Body-Connection to access the power within. This seminar will reveal the secrets of this connection.

Topics include:
• Avoiding the Comfort Zone
• Moment Management: Improving your ability to interpret and evaluate
• Harnessing language that empowers
• Mind-body link influences your ability to lead
• Fundamentals of the energetic body-mind

Registration is open to individuals and groups. Tuition is $220 per person. “Early Bird Group” $176 (per/person for groups of six (6) or more; a one-time submission of registration form(s) and one-payment transaction will be available until August 17). “Early Bird Individual” $187 (starts Aug 18–Oct 3).

Register by calling 235-7433 or online at windwardcce.org/leadership-seminar. Continental breakfast and lunch included in tuition.

“Because we are committed to training the next generation of leaders and managers in Hawai’i and assisting them in developing strong leadership skills, we are excited to offer this seminar at Windward Community College, and with special ‘early-bird’ rates,” said Jane Uyetake, workforce coordinator at Windward Community College’s Office of Continuing Education & Training.
